I am working with Nigel Lee to update and improve our web site into a dynamic source to keep you informed and resources for your growth in the Lord.

Marcus has developed a podcast featuring Pastor Rains sermons through the years. His sister has transcribed sermons in PDF documents. He has developed a great site with his team of Jeff and Jackie

The team serving the food pantry is seeing a growth in services. We are also organizing the resources to improve the function of our building. A big shout out to those doing the work

Personal Devotions

In Reeves Corner at our website is a Bible Reading Schedule

You can decide to Read the Old Testament or the New Testament. You can read the Psalms. Or you can do all three with a morning, noon, evening read or all at once. Modify as you like.

Notice there is no calendar with the readings. Print and check off what you have done and continue at your own pace. You can't do it wrong.

Pick up Daily Bread or do so on line. <https://www.odbm.org/>

Adapt and be Flexible

The one thing I have learned about getting older is that we cannot do the things that we have done with the same strength or energy that we once did. But that doesn't mean that we quit.

As an example, I use a recumbent indoor bike for my walking exercises because I cannot walk like I used to

So you can't do something like you used to do but how can you adapt and change to continue doing the things that you like having a mindset of flexibility is often very helpful.

For example, we never know everything about God. That will always be impossible. But we can learn more even when we get older, we adapt and stay flexible.

Having trouble moving? Check with your doctor on what you can do. Chair walking can be done sitting walking in place, raising knees higher, side steps, kicks. I will demonstrate these exorcizes any time. It works.
